PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

News and Notes w/Pastor Nancy

Greetings Friends -

God is bedrock under my feet (Psalm 18:1, MSG)

There is so much in life that is out of our control. The world can be harsh and unpredictable. Conflict comes, uncertainty increases anxiety, and the bad guys prosper. In contrast, what a steady and calming reality that God is bedrock under our feet. Bedrock is literally the solid rock under the surface upon which skyscrapers and other large structures are anchored. Metaphorically, bedrock is the fundamental, basic, or reliable basis for something. For example, "honesty is the bedrock of a good relationship."

What a securing thought that God is bedrock under our feet. May that bring comfort and perspective to your trials this week!

In church news, two upcoming Sunday events:

- This Sunday, all-community Church Picnic. Bring a lawn chair, a dish to share, and come for hotdogs, games, time together in the park attached to the church yard. Hope that you will join us.
- Next Sunday (Aug 27), Fall Planning meeting for all FPC Teams. Come help us dream up the events and emphasis for this coming fall. Of course, we will feed you!

Abounding in Hope,

Nancy

A PRAYER AS SCHOOL RESUMES

Loving Father, thank You for our schools. Thank You for the lives they have touched, and for the lessons they have imparted to countless schoolchildren through the years.

We pray that You would put Your hand over these buildings and protect them. Make them a safe haven for our children, teachers and staff. Make the walls sturdy, and the doors secure. May bullying, anger, conflict, hopelessness or hate never find a foothold here.

Watch over our children as they come and go through these halls. Give them a spirit of cooperation and friendship. Let them be respectful of the building, the staff and one another. Create in them a desire to learn and grow and become better citizens of Your world. May they sense the caring and support of the teachers and staff, and strive to do their best each day.

Lord, be with each teacher every day. Let them wake in the morning feeling rested and refreshed and ready to pour their hearts into their students, their material and their role in guiding young minds. Give them extra patience, extra inventiveness, and when the day seems especially long and tiring, give them extra strength and hope. Be their Encourager and their Support when things aren't going well, and let them feel the love, support and appreciation of the students and families in their districts.

Please keep the school staff especially close to You Lord, as they are the seldom seen yet essential hearts of the building. From the custodians to the librarians to the secretaries, the aides, cooks, and bus drivers, let them know they are valued and appreciated. Grant them enthusiasm for their tasks and true enjoyment in the children they see each day

Finally Lord, protect all in these schools from illness and injury. Protect this building from forces of nature and the evil of men. It often seems to be a dark, frightening world, and we are concerned for our children, their teachers and our schools. Help us to keep our eyes on You, and our trust in You to know what's best for our schools, our communities and our country.

Use us we pray, Lord, to be a light for You.
In Christ's name, Amen
